Peace Studies Research 2020/2021 Internship Application

The Lentz Peace Research Association was founded by and named for Theodore Lentz, an early promoter of scientific peace research and the author of Towards a Science of Peace. This organization has engaged in promoting and funding scientific peace research and education through grants, fellowships and public presentations for decades.

We are currently seeking interns to research topics related to peace chosen by the Lentz Board. The intent is to provide research and data for community organizations to assist their work in bringing about a more peaceful and equitable world. A limited number of small stipends ($1,000-$2000) are available to select candidates.

Eligibility:

- Graduate students, senior undergraduates or recent university graduates
- Proof of academic achievement (writing sample/transcripts, etc.)
- Two letters of recommendation from current or former professors

Please submit a cover letter, resume, academic affiliation and two letters of recommendation by September 30th, 2020 to:
